

Contents

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.....	9
FOREWORD.....	11
INTRODUCTION.....	15
1. “A text about a text”: constitutions of Britain and Bosnia ..	37
1.1 Searching for the soul of a state	37
1.2 Overview of the British constitution	44
1.3 Overview of the Bosnian constitution.....	53
1.4 Comparative constitutional histories	59
2. “Look a shoot is sprouting”: measuring culture	93
2.1 Political culture in theory	96
2.2 Political culture in practice	103
2.3 Political culture applied to Bosnia and Britain	107
2.4 Problem of political apathy	117
3. “Going back to whence I sprang”: assessing apathy	127
3.1 A-systemic orientations	128
3.2 Anti-systemic orientations.....	131
3.3 Absence of interpersonal trust	135
3.4 Institutions as an explanation	140
4. “We’ve still not found a cure”: constitutional rules.....	153
4.1 Constitutional choice and change.....	153
4.2 Recurrent crisis and rarefied reform in Bosnia	158
4.3 Rising strain amidst weak reform in Britain	175
4.4 Reform dilemmas and deadlock.....	194

5. “We need to uncover lost paths”: modelling change	213
5.1 Modelling intransigence	213
5.2 Modelling the failure of reform	230
5.3 Modelling successful evolution in the short run.....	235
5.4 Modelling future co-operation and participation	239
6. “A text about hope”: lessons from Bosnia and Britain	257
6.1 Debate, deliberation and participation	257
6.2 Lessons for Bosnia and post-conflict societies	260
6.3 Lessons for Britain and pre-conflict societies.....	270
6.4 Pathways out of constitutional quagmires.....	293
BEYOND LAW, PRESCRIPTIONS AND CONCLUSIONS	319
AFTERWORD	333
APPENDICES.....	339
GLOSSARY	351
REFERENCES.....	353