

Table of Contents

INTRODUCTION	11
CHAPTER 1
Why Partition?.....	17
1.1 15th August: Independence Day or a mourning day?....	17
A Call to Waris Shah	18
1.2 The Indian Holocaust: Partition.....	18
1.3 The growing tension between the Muslim League and the Congress Party (1937)	21
1.4 The 'Pakistan Resolution' and the 'Pakistan Demand' ...	22
1.5 Cabinet Mission in 1946	26
1.6 Punjab and Bengal's destiny	28
1.7 Radcliffe Line and Punjab.....	29
CHAPTER 2
Partition Literature and Anita Desai.....	33
2.1 What is Partition Literature?	33
2.2 Indian Partition Literature in English: when? and why?	39
2.3 Great novels about Partition	43
2.4 Anita Desai	45
From her childhood to her marriage: the world of languages and books	45
Literary career as a novelist: ' The Writer in the Family ' ...	47
2.5 What does 'writing fiction' mean? To approach Truth and Nothingness?	52
2.6 Imaginary Indian landscape and geography	57
2.7 Clear Light of Day	60

CHAPTER 3

Women in Clear Light of Day and women during Partition 63

- 3.1 Clear Light of Day: 'Partition novel of the Hindu upper class' 63
- 3.2 Plot (II Chapter): Partition in Clear Light of Day 66
- 3.3 Bim and Tara: the contrast..... 73
- 3.4 Women during the Partition 80
- 3.5 'Unattached' and 'Abducted': The Abducted Persons (Recovery and Restoration) Bill 85

CHAPTER 4

The aftermath of Partition: decay and loss of

Indian Muslim culture and the Urdu language 89

- 4.1 Indian identity: socio-cultural dichotomy after the Partition and monoculturalism..... 89
- 4.2 Old Delhi: from mindscape and heterotopia to decadence..... 93
- 4.3 The garden..... 98
- 4.4 The language of past legacy: Urdu..... 100
 - In Custody* and the Muslim and Hindu communities in Mirpore 100
 - Deven, Murad and Siddiqui: death of Muslim aristocracy 102
 - The labyrinth of Old Delhi, the decaying Nur, the second-hand tape recorder 105
- 4.5 Alternatives for the Urdu language 110

CONCLUSION

India: A Land of Indirect Genocides..... 113

BIBLIOGRAPHY 117

WEBSITES 121